Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

Painted brick, two-story with side one story frame wing. Gabled roof and end chimney. Three bays wide. The house faces west and its front is focus. The centered entry is decorated by a classical composition of dentiled cornice, broken pediment with urn and grooved engaged pilasters.

Windows are six-over-six with decorative shutters. The windows are paired on the ground floor and single wider versions on the second.

There is a gabled service porch with plain supports over a below ground cellar entry.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

307 Frederick Avenue is typical of the mid-20th century architecture termed "Colonial". This stylized design borrowed features from earlier architectural vocabularies and applied them to a thoroughly modern homes. This two-story brick has end gabled roof, a one story frame wing and generally simple lines. Interest is focused on the classical features of the entry with a broken pediment, grooved pilasters and full entablature.

The comfortable residence was built in 1952 by builders Warthen and Ward for Mr. and Mrs. Garrison W. Beall. The home was built on the lot next to Mrs. Beall's childhood home at 309 Frederick Avenue. The Bealls owned the home until 1962. It was later owned by attorney John T. Beall. In recent years it has been used for professional offices, but is unaltered.
